McCulloch Medical™ Lamb Resuscitator

The McCulloch Medical Constant Delivery Lamb Resuscitator is a key life saving piece of equipment for the Sheep Farmer:

Developed in New Zealand the unit offers both a suction effect (Aspiration) to remove mucus from the nose and throat – without having to swing the animal around - which also serves to make the blood rush to the animals head.

The Resuscitation mask offers a metered and correct amount of fresh air into the lungs (Respiration) without fear of contamination from animal to human (and vice versa).

The Resuscitation mask offers a metered and correct amount of fresh air into the lungs (Respiration) without fear of contamination from animal to human (and vice versa).

The special relief valve prevents over respiration if you pump too quickly.
